1. What kind of Special Educational Needs does our school make provision for?

We make provision for all 4 categories of Special Educational Needs:

Communication and interaction

Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. This may be because they have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication. The profile for every child with SLCN is different and their needs may change over time. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives.

Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.

Cognition and learning

Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs, including moderate learning difficulties (MLD), severe learning difficulties (SLD), where children are likely to need support in all areas of the curriculum and associated difficulties with mobility and communication, through to profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD)

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties

Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression, self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained. Other children and young people may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.

Sensory and/or physical needs

Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided. These difficulties can be age related and may fluctuate over time.

For further information regarding SEN provision at our school please refer to our SEN/D policy

2. How do we identify and assess pupils with SEN?

At our school all teachers are responsible for identifying pupils with SEND and, in collaboration with the Inclusion Leader and SEN/DCO, will ensure that those pupils requiring different or additional support are identified at an early stage.

Assessment is the process by which pupils with SEN/D can be identified. Whether or not a pupil is making progress is seen as a significant factor in considering the need for SEN/D provision.

For further information regarding SEN identification and assessment at our school please refer to our SEN/D policy

3. What provision do we make for pupils with identified SEN whether or not they have EHC plans?

We offer a range of interventions to support children with SEN

Interventions

The SEND/CO in collaboration with the class teacher will decide the action required to help the pupil progress. Based on the results of previous assessments, the actions might be:

- Deployment of extra staff to work with the pupil
- Provision of alternative learning materials/ special equipment
- Group support
- Provision of additional adult time in devising interventions and monitoring their effectiveness
- Staff development/training to undertake more effective strategies
- Access to LA support services for advice on strategies, equipment, or staff training

7. How do we consult with parents of children with SEN about the education of their child?

We meet with parents of all children 3 times a year to discuss their attainment and progress. These are called Academic Review Day meetings.

For parents of children with SEN we have an additional meeting each term to discuss the child's progress towards outcomes identified in their SEN Support Plan. This is called a SEN Support Plan Review meeting.

We therefore plan to meet with parents of children with SEN 6 times a year.

However, in addition to this, parents are encouraged to make appointments to meet with school staff whenever they wish to discuss queries or questions regarding their child, and the school will contact parents for additional meetings whenever necessary.

Transition is a part of life for all learners whether it is moving to a new class or a new school and we recognise that it is an important time for all children, especially those with SEN.

At our school we plan transitions carefully to ensure they run as smoothly as possible. Planning for transitions within the school takes place in the Summer term and arrangements for pupils with SEN will be planned according to individual need.
